Good game. Only plaid two maps but for the price so for so good. Nice grafik and great sound but sometimes hard... A very interesting idea with a surprisingly good execution. A bit short, but for this price, can't really complain too much.

I would love to see more chapters or a sequel with more depth and longer missions.

If you are into puzzle games you will probably like it but may find it a bit easy. Not sure why it has a "Difficult" tag.. Unpolished but shows potential. Would recommend for price

. Great ideas, but not recommending due to lack of actual video options. Motion blur is too much, gave me a massive headache and made me feel sick. Will update if video options are added. I ran into a bug, posted a screenshot, and the developer responded almost immediately. This is a cool game.. A Collection of Bad Puzzle Games. Silent Dracmor from Turtle island gaming here. Just finished this game, and I must say... HIGHLY reccomended if you enjoy situational abstract puzzles. From start to finish, I felt challenged and ecouraged to keep playing each inventive scenario. 5/5!!!

Stay shiny!. Barely works. This game is absolutely awful. It doesn't tell you what your supposed to do and even if it does most of the time you dont actually know what they mean or where to go or how to do it (edit: well i mean alot of games aren't supposed to tell u what to do but still!). Most of all its laggy. I played for about 20 minutes and I got very bad framerates. Then, (Contains a spoiler even though they tell you about the spoiler) I tried the airship level. I lowered the graphics to improve framerates and it worked. But when I got to the part (Spoiler) where you have to pick the lock, my framrates were instantly dropping. It was like 3 FPS. Maybe I should tell you about the rooftop level. So when it tells you to block the door, I tried to pick up barrels, crates, and any other object I could find. But the only object I could pick up was this flimsy metal bar. I blocked the door like they told me to and it did nothing. Don't buy this game. Don't waste $4 of your steam gift card or of your real money on this game and go spend it on a good game like Garry's Mod or one of the games in the Counter-Strike series. Maybe even buy a new mouse or keyboard or headphones. (Even though keyboards are a lot more than $4. So are mice. And headphones.) I don't really care what you spend your money on. Just don't use it on this game.. at the 4 dollar price tag it's alright. I couldn't seem to make the clock tower work or the shopping cart in the dam so I quit out, but I was kind of bored from the space oxygen level. I guess I was looking for puzzles and not an exploration game. at 4$ it's good, but if it was above 5 I probably wouldn't recommend it. It's pretty on the edge for me. Still that first level on the terrace was great and had the stupid ah hah moment that makes puzzle games fun.

Challenging, creative and fun! I love puzzle games and this one does not disappoint. Decent graphics and voice acting keep it interesting. It took me 40 minutes to solve the Rooftop Escape scenario. That's the first one, where armed soldiers are coming to kill you. For less than $4, this game is a steal! I look forward to the other three scenarios.. Four great puzzles to play through. Beautiful landscapes and voice acting separate this game from the dozens of other 'atmospheric puzzle games'. Really good value for your gaming dollar.
